Hancock Industrial Program Discussed

Norton J. Haas, Jr., Chairman of the Committee for Industrial Development of Hancock County, was guest speaker at the North Central P. T. A. Association's November meeting.

In discussing the proposed industrial program for Hancock County, Mr. Haas said the Board of Supervisors have appointed a temporary unofficial Hancock County Industrial Advisory Committee made up of one member from each Beat in the county to work with the Bay St. Louis Jaycees.

The Board of Supervisors, he told the group, is in the process of interviewing several engineering firms for the purpose of making an economical and industrial survey of the county. This, he added, is the first major step toward the industrialization of Hancock County.

In 1954, Mr. Haas said, Hancock County was 37th in the state in per capita income, which income has remained approximately constant for a number of years while other counties have gained considerably.

Mr. Haas also told of Hancock County's timber and other resources, pointing out that the fresh water streams in the county furnish sufficient water for practically any type of industry.

The total assessed valuation of Jackson County in 1959, prior to its industrialization, was approximately $13,000,000 today it is approximately $41,000,000.

Hancock County, he said, has an assessed valuation of $13,000,000. If industry is brought into the county, he stated, rents and land values will increase and the volume of retail trade, annual city and county revenue will increase. More new roads, schools and other facilities will be built without any increase in taxation.

Factors which will present problems will be met, bond issues will be necessary but Mr. Haas pointed this would be overcome in a few years. "Money must be spent to make money," he continued.

Industrialization of the county must be done by the people of the county and Mr. Haas urged the group to talk to their neighbors about the program and to their supervisors prevailing on them to provide funds for the industrial survey needed at this time.

The meeting was held at North Central School with C. R. Knowlton, president of North Central PTA, presiding.

Traffic Death Rate Dropped Sharply

Mississippi's traffic death rate dropped sharply during Oct., a monthly accident report from the Miss. Highway Patrol reveals.

The October summary showed 37 persons killed as a result of motor vehicle accidents, a decrease of 23 per cent from the number reported killed October 1959.

This 28 percent decrease is the sharpest monthly decline in accidents this year. The Highway Patrol hopes it is a good omen and signals a series of monthly accident "decreases."

According to Public Safety Commissioner Thomas Shelton, the yearly traffic death toll may reach an all time high this year however despite October's fatal accident decline. As of midnight, October 31, traffic mishaps have cost 897 lives in Mississippi, and November and Dec., generally considered the year's most potentially hazardous months, still lie ahead.

Primary November and December hazards which Commissioner Shelton warns against are: 1. excessive "Holiday Cheer," 2. following too closely in congested traffic, 3. driving fatigue, 4. bad weather and 5. excessive speed and its twin killer, carelessness.

Traffic deaths can be curbed in November and December, also, said Shelton, "If motorists wish and drive carefully."

Price said two wheels and two tires reported stolen between New Orleans and Slidell, an assortment of tools, a radio and a wallet, allegedly stolen from a car parked on Highway 90 belonging to Richard Benton of New Orleans, were also found in the automobile.

Evans who had a bill of sale, driver's license, veterans registration and a discharge in the name of Marvin Evans when apprehended, Sheriff Price continued confessed to the theft of the car in Huntington, October 18 and also confessed to the theft of the tools and other articles found in his possession at points between Los Angeles and Bay St. Louis.

Goal Of Mississippi State University Is To Help Farmers

State College, Miss.—Helping farmers to make more profits from pastures during the 1960's is a goal of Mississippi State University, announced President D. W. Colvard.

"The great frontier lies now in the application of scientific principles to our agriculture with the phenomenal development of our livestock industry, and with pastures and feed crops being basic to its growth, we must continue to move forward with our pasture program," he declared.

"Mississippi's income from livestock rose from $124,245,000 in 1950 to $281,000,000 in 1959. The state's total cash receipts from farm marketings in 1959 was $618,000,000.

Other parts of the nation, including the agriculturally-rich Corn Belt, envy the climatic and other advantages of Mississippi for grazing and forage crops Dr. Colvard pointed out. With planning it is possible to graze livestock practically the year round here.

"A decade ago, I watched the process of a practical educational program in grassland farming that was originated in Mississippi and spread to much of our nation and beyond. The man largely responsible for it was Extension Agronomist W. R. Thompson," he said.

The agricultural Experiment Station of Mississippi State University conducted research on many phases of pasture and forage crops during the past decade, Dr. Colvard stated. The resulting recommendations, in an easy-to-understand practical form are available to any farmer through his local county agent of the Agricultural Extension Service.

Mississippi State University of fers students and visiting groups and individuals some of the best training available anywhere in the principles of grassland farming.

All Mississippi agricultural agencies and organizations have agreed to join in this educational campaign on pastures during the decade head, Dr. Colvard announced. The continued success of this effort will likewise depend upon the active support of bankers, the businessmen, newspapers, farm magazines and papers, radio and television stations, he said.

The beneficiary in both deeds of trust, herein mentioned, being one and the same parties, the money derived from said sale shall be proportionately divided to liquidate the indebtedness secured by the two deeds of trust herein mentioned in the proportions that one bears to the other and as such the proceeds shall be applied to each deed of trust and credit thereon given.

It being further understood that neither of said deeds of trust are primed one by the other, since both deeds of trust were simultaneously executed for the purpose of securing a single indebtedness.

Forestry Commission and the Southern Timber Management Corporation at Brewton, Alabama, purchased 9,565 bushels of long leaf pine cones at $7.17, 50, a total of 14,203 bushels which amounted to $15,289.50; this amount was paid direct to collectors of the cones in Hancock County.

The cones Mr. Parker said, are brought to the Forestry Commission and the Southern Timber Management nurseries where they are processed while green, seeds extracted and planted for seedlings. Seedlings are brought back to Southern Mississippi, including Hancock County, they are also sold to adjoining states.

Thanks Helpers

Mrs. Olo Mollere, president of Our Lady of the Gulf Parochial School Parents Club, wishes to thank all who gave donations, those who attended and all members who worked so hard to make the Club's first benefit turkey supper such a success.

Mrs. Mollere said the number of tickets sold at the door exceeded their expectations; this accounted for their running short of turkey and having to substitute ham; however, she added, the club will sponsor other benefits and will make plans to have an ample supply of food so everyone can be served.

Winners Of First Turkey Shoot Held By Sidelines Club

Mr. Andre Arceneaux walked off with top honors in the first Saint Stanislaus Sidelines Club Turkey Shoot held Sunday, November 6 at Stanislaus Stadium.

The first prize was two turkeys and one ham.

Second place honors went to Mr. R. "Red" Reinike. Third and fourth place winners were Mr. Bienvenu and Mr. Lee Klein. All these places received turkeys as prizes.

In the special events department winners were: 1st event—Mr. William Kenny 2nd event—Garry Heitzmann 3rd event—Mr. Slim Drott 4th event—Mr. "Buddy" Pilalo 5th event—Brother Alban 6th event—Brother Ralph

Each winner in the special events contests was awarded a turkey. The 2nd of these turkey shoots will be held next Sunday, Nov. 13 at 2:00 p. m. at the St. Stanislaus stadium. All Sidelines Club members are urged to attend the meet and step up to the firing line.

Again, there will be special events contests for all who wish to participate and there will be special events for the ladies.

Mr. James Travica, chairman of the Turkey Shoot Committee of the Sidelines Club, urges all members to get their returns in to him or to the school as soon as possible. Tickets mailed to the club members may be returned to the school by mail. All returns should be made not later than Sunday, November 13.

GARDEN TOOLS SHOULD BE CLEANED BEFORE STORING FOR WINTER.

Once the bulbs are planted, the transplanting done, trees and shrubs in place and mulching done, garden tools to be stored for winter should be cleaned. Waiting until spring will give dirt, rust and corrosion time to work much destruction. To protect hand tools covered with dirt as well as rust, to scrub, and restore the bright look is necessary. Coating of metal surfaces with oil offers protection.

Kantcha Ketchum

With cooler weather, you feel more like hunting and fishing. Underwater baits are now in order, although fish were caught over the weekend with both surface and underwater baits.

Plenty of sheephead are being caught along the R. R. Bridge. One party of three caught over 100 pounds Monday.

Speckles are being caught up Jordan River by trolling and with live bait. Green trout were also being caught up the river.

Rat reds and large red fish are reported being caught most everywhere. Just now.

Geese hunters report lots of geese hereabouts. Among those after 'em are Joe Kern, August Rauxet, Raoul Telhiad, Curtis Favre, Forest L. Favre and Charles Scianna. Don't know just what they got over the weekend.

Bowling is still going strong — Team play is getting underway.

The turkey shoot sponsored by the Sidelines Club of St. Stanislaus Sunday drew a good crowd. Another match will be held this Sunday, get on the firing line and win a prize.

Plan now to attend the 6th annual invitational Golf Tournament at Pass Christian Isles Golf Club, to be held over the weekend of November 19. The course is one of the sportiest on the Gulf Coast and the new Pro Dick Tarleton, is very busy getting rye grass on greens and he tells us that the course should be better than ever at tournament time. The tourney will be 36 holes instead of 18 this year. There will be various flights including one for the 60 years and over.

Plenty of prizes. Registration is $10.00 and entitles you to all activities, including practice round on Friday, Nov. 18th and the now famous Pit Barbecue on Saturday evening. The price of the barbecue for non-golfers will be $2.50. Pro Tarleton says he will be looking for you at tourney time. You may make up your own foursome.

Do we need a Junior Sportsman Club for the youth of Mississippi? Our girls and boys are far the most valuable resources we have here in our state, yet many times neglect them more than we realize. It is long past the time when we should not take them for granted, but do something constructive for them.

The Game and Fish Commission are vitally interested in organizing a Junior Sportsman Club in every school in Mississippi, and then organize it into a county and state organization.

The Junior Sportsman's Club is indeed a great deal to our State and to the welfare of the future game and fish areas.

To enumerate the purposes of the Junior Sportsman Club would make this article too lengthy. However, we would like to mention a few of the most important things a boy or girl should be familiar with. They should be instructed in the danger and in proper handling of guns, type, and ammunition. For various hunting practices, habits of game and knowledge of hunting season, regulations. They should have instruction as to the danger of poisonous hunting and fishing. We feel that it is vitally important to have a knowledge of correct hunting and fishing procedures, and also to have an appreciation for the game and fish areas.

PASTURES CAN MAKE MONEY

Pastures can make money for all livestock farmers, and live-stock production can be increased with good pastures all the time weather will permit, and plenty of stored feed for the times when pastures can't be grazed. The first step toward money-making pastures is using enough of the right kind of fertilizer. The next step is weed control, a year-round job. Preventing overgrazing is the third step. This is done through better management, rotating grazing so that one pasture can be rested and allowed to grow back while another is being grazed. A sound feed program through planting is necessary.

Kimball-Monti Wedding

Miss Jeannette Ann Monti, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Paul Monti, Sr., of Bay St. Louis, and Mr. Monroe J. Kimball, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Edward Kimball, Sr., of Pass Christian, Miss., were married at a Nuptial Mass at 11 a. m. Saturday at Our Lady of the Gulf Church.

The Rev. Father Bernard Haddican officiated at the double ring ceremony and Professor Joseph Hemmersbach played a program of nuptial music during the ceremony.

The altars were decorated with vases of white mums and pom poms and palms and tall baskets of white blossoms were on either side of the main altar. Satin bows marked the family pews.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white lace gown fashioned with a bouffant skirt and ruffles down the back. The fitted bodice trimmed with sequins and seed pearls, featured a scalloped neckline and long sleeves.

Her short veil of imported illusion fell from a small head piece embellished with sequins and seed pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of lily-of-the-valley and feathered mums.

Miss Iva Faye Monti, sister of the bride who was maid of honor, wore a dress of taffeta in two shades of blue; the bridesmaid, Mrs. Paul Jones, wore a frock in two tones of green; Mrs. Henry Monti Sr., aqua and Miss Gaydell Cue, pink. The frocks were fashioned with full skirts, matching cummerbund and their head pieces were jands of velvet leaves with circular veils in darker shades to match their dresses.

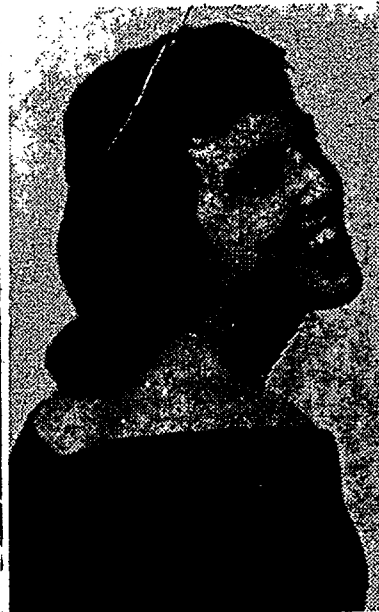

A. C. W. Gibson and Joseph W. Gibson, sons of St. Joseph's, who were later employed by the Gulf Oil Corporation.

Sotak-Compretta Wedding

Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church was the setting for the Saturday morning wedding of Miss Frances Norma Compretta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Joseph Compretta of Bay St. Louis and Mr. John J. Sotak of Whiting, Indiana.

Rev. Father Michael Kelly officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with arrangements of white mums. Palms and tall baskets of white blossoms were on either side of the altar.

Professor Joseph Hemmersbach accompanied Messrs. Watson Johns and Conrad Mauffray who sang hymns during the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white peau de soie. The fitted bodice featured a rounded neckline trimmed with seed pearls and long sleeves ending in points over the hand. Her short veil illusion fell from a tiara of seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of white rosebuds centered with an orchid.

Miss Rosemary Compretta was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Kathleen Benigno and Mary Ladner, and Marsha Compretta was the bridesmaid.

They wore identical, short-length dresses of emerald green velvet fashioned with full, round necklines and short sleeves. A bow trimmed the waistline. They wore small matching headbands with a veil on their heads and slippers and white gloves. The maid of honor carried a cascade bouquet of yellow mums and the bridesmaids carried mums in wicker baskets.

Mr. Rodney Sandoz was best man and Messrs. James Compretta and Donald Compretta were groomsmen. Messrs. Adam D. Compretta and Frank La Rosa served as ring bearers.

The bride's table, covered with a white lace cloth, was centered with a four-tier cake surrounded with white blossoms and ivory. Silver candelabra holding white tapers were on either side.

After the bride and groom cut the first slice of cake, it was served by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Joe Chiniche and Mrs. Louis La Rosa of Long Beach.

Miss Judy Riotta presented the bride's register. Mrs. Compretta received the guests wearing a blue wool suit with white accessories and a cascade of rosebuds.

The mother of the groom wore a blue lace, blue accessories and a shoulder bouquet of white rosebuds.

When the bride left for her wedding trip to Florida, she was wearing a green wool suit with brown accessories. An orchid sage completed her attire.

Mr. and Mrs. Sotak will have their home in Anchorage, Alaska. The bride, a graduate of St. Joseph Academy, was employed at Merchants Bank and Trust Company.

The groom graduated from George Rogers Clark High School and attended Purdue University. He is presently with the U.S. Air Force.
